“Revised Accreditation Framework of NAAC”

8th April 2019 Time: 9 AM

Report

Date: 8th April 2019

Time: 9:00 AM

Venue: [Sakerben Hall, K. J. Somaiya College]

Introduction:

The National Workshop held on 8th April 2019 focused on the "Revised Accreditation Framework of NAAC," which held immense significance for higher education institutions across the nation. Accreditation plays a crucial role in ensuring quality and excellence in educational institutions. NAAC, as the apex body for accrediting institutions, periodically updates its framework to align with changing educational landscapes and global standards.

Inaugural Session:

Dr. B. S. Yadav, the Principal of K. J. Somaiya College, set the tone for the event with his welcome address. He underlined the importance of such workshops in creating a collaborative platform for educators, administrators, and experts to share insights, experiences, and best practices. His words created an atmosphere of anticipation and enthusiasm for the learning that was to follow.

The felicitation session followed, acknowledging the achievements and contributions of esteemed educationists. Prin. Dr. H. V. Deshpande and Prin. Dr. S. Y. Hongekar, both renowned figures in the field of education, were honored. This segment of the event not only showcased the spirit of respect and appreciation but also encouraged a sense of community and shared purpose.

Keynote and Expert Insights:

Dr. H. V. Deshpande, the keynote speaker, held the audience's attention with his profound insights into the revised accreditation framework. He elaborated on the new parameters, criteria, and assessment methodologies introduced by NAAC. His address was marked by a clear and concise breakdown of the framework's components, helping attendees grasp the intricacies of the changes. Attendees gained a comprehensive understanding of how institutions needed to align their practices to meet the new standards.

Prin. Dr. Hongekar began by defining college autonomy as the ability of an educational institution to make decisions independently regarding various aspects of its functioning, including curriculum design, faculty recruitment, financial management, and student affairs. He emphasized that autonomy was not just about freedom but also about the responsibility that comes with it. Colleges that embrace autonomy have the chance to shape their own destinies while adhering to the broader principles of education.

Dr. Hongekar enumerated the benefits of college autonomy, which included fostering a culture of innovation, encouraging research initiatives, and responding promptly to emerging trends in education. However, he stressed that autonomy brings with it the responsibility to maintain transparency, uphold academic standards, and ensure equitable access to opportunities for all students.

Leadership Perspectives:

Hon. Ashokrao Rohamare, Chairman of KTES, took the stage to deliver the presidential address. His presence and words carried a weight of authority, driving home the importance of quality assurance in education. He emphasized how adherence to the updated accreditation framework was not just an institutional obligation but a commitment to shaping the nation's future. His speech provided a broader perspective, placing the event's theme in the context of national development and progress.

Insightful Contributions:

The Secretary of KTES, Hon. Adv. Sanjeev Kulkarni, contributed a unique dimension to the event. His speech delved into the legal and administrative aspects that institutions should consider while adapting to the revised framework. This perspective was crucial as it highlighted the implications of non-compliance and the legal significance of accreditation. His insights added a practical layer to the theoretical understanding of the framework's changes.

Gratitude and Closing:

Dr. S.R. Pagare, delivered the vote of thanks, acknowledging the collective effort that made the workshop a success. His words not only expressed gratitude to the speakers and organizers but also reinforced the sense of unity among the participants. The vote of thanks encapsulated the spirit of collaboration that the workshop aimed to foster.

Compeering and Event Flow:

Prof. Vijay Thange, the IQAC Coordinator, skillfully compered the event. His role was pivotal in maintaining the event's flow, ensuring seamless transitions between sessions, and keeping the audience engaged. His efforts contributed to the overall success of the workshop.

Conclusion:

The National Workshop on the "Revised Accreditation Framework of NAAC" went beyond being a mere event; it was a platform that nurtured understanding, shared insights, and fostered a sense of responsibility towards quality education. The event's speakers, ranging from esteemed educationists to legal experts, provided a comprehensive perspective on the revised framework. This workshop undoubtedly served as a catalyst for institutions to embark on a journey of aligning their practices with the new standards, thus contributing to the upliftment of the nation's educational landscape.

National Education Policy 2020: Multidisciplinary Education

Dates: 14th and 15th February, 2023

Report

Introduction:

The approval of the new National Education Policy by the Union Cabinet in July 2020 was a big deal, marking the first comprehensive reform in 34 years. This policy covers both school and higher education and is expected to bring about significant changes in the education system.

One important event in this journey was a conference on the New Education Policy held at K. J. Somaiya College, Kopargaon, Ahmednagar, on February 14th and 15th 2023. This conference brought together educators, policymakers, and stakeholders to discuss the various aspects of the NEP.

The main goal of the conference was to help people understand the NEP's goals, implications, and challenges. Experts from different fields spoke at the event, leading insightful discussions that went deep into the details of the policy.

By gathering these experts, the conference aimed to create a collective understanding of the NEP. The discussions weren't just theoretical; they encouraged people to get actively involved and take action. The conference shed light on the NEP's goals and strategies for improving education in the country from different perspectives.

Day 1: 14th February

Inauguration:

The conference commenced with a grand opening ceremony graced by the presence of eminent figures in the field of education. The proceedings were initiated by a thought-provoking speech delivered by the highly esteemed Principal, Dr. K. C. Mohite. In his address, Dr. Mohite underscored the paramount significance of the New Education Policy (NEP) and elucidated how it possesses the potential to revolutionize the landscape of education.

Dr. Mohite eloquently articulated that education should transcend the mere rote memorization of facts and figures; it should also encompass the cultivation of critical thinking, creativity, and practical skills among students. His impassioned words resonated deeply with the audience, igniting a spark of excitement and hope. He emphatically emphasized that the NEP was not a mere document but a well-thought-out blueprint aimed at enhancing students' intellectual capabilities and preparing them more effectively for the challenges of the real world.

Dr. Mohite's eloquence and conviction served as a rallying point for all attendees, galvanizing them to rally behind the NEP's objectives. His speech set the tone for a conference filled with positivity and determination, reminding everyone in attendance that they were collectively shaping the future of education through their commitment to the New Education Policy.

Keynote Address:

The keynote address, a pivotal moment of the conference, was eloquently delivered by the honourable Prof. Dr. Vijay Joshi, Chief Consultant of Rashtriya Uchchatar Shiksha Abhiyan (RUSA) in Maharashtra. Dr. Joshi's presentation centered on elucidating the pivotal features and objectives encapsulated within the New Education Policy (NEP).

With articulate precision, Dr. Joshi emphasized the NEP's resolute commitment to promoting multidisciplinary education. He elucidated how this approach would enable students to transcend the confines of traditional subject silos, fostering a holistic understanding of knowledge and its interconnectedness. Furthermore, he expounded upon the NEP's dedication to fostering a flexible curriculum that adapts to the ever-evolving needs of students and the workforce, ensuring that education remains relevant in a dynamic world.

Dr. Joshi's presentation shone a spotlight on the integration of vocational training within the educational framework. He underscored the policy's vision of equipping students with practical skills and competencies, thus empowering them to seamlessly transition into various professional spheres.

In addition to these core themes, Dr. Joshi shed light on the transformative role of technology in modern education. He elucidated how technology could enrich the learning experience, making it more engaging and interactive while also broadening access to high-quality education for students across diverse geographical locations.

Dr. Joshi's keynote address was not only informative but also inspirational, reinforcing the conference's collective commitment to realizing the ambitious goals set forth by the New Education Policy. His insights provided attendees with a comprehensive understanding of the NEP's vision and underscored its potential to usher in a new era of education in Maharashtra and beyond.

Session 1:

Dr. Mohite's address resonated profoundly with the audience, as he skilfully articulated a vision of education that transcends the traditional rote memorization of facts and figures. His eloquent words underscored the imperative of fostering critical thinking, nurturing creativity, and instilling practical skills in students, thereby equipping them for the multifaceted challenges of the modern world.

His impassioned delivery electrified the atmosphere, filling it with a palpable sense of excitement and hope. Dr. Mohite's message cut through the conventionality of education and illuminated a path towards a more enlightened and dynamic approach.

One of the most powerful aspects of Dr. Mohite's speech was his unequivocal declaration that the NEP was not a mere bureaucratic document but a meticulously crafted blueprint. It was a testament to his unwavering belief in the transformative potential of this policy. His words conveyed a resounding message that the NEP was not just rhetoric; it was a concrete plan designed to enhance students' intellectual capabilities, fostering a generation better prepared to navigate the complexities of the real world.

Dr. Mohite's eloquence and conviction acted as a unifying force for all conference attendees. His speech had the profound effect of galvanizing them, igniting a collective determination to rally behind the NEP's noble objectives. It set the tone for a conference marked by optimism and resolve, serving as a constant reminder that each participant was an active agent in shaping the future of education through their unwavering commitment to the New Education Policy.

Session 2:

The second day of the conference unfolded with an enlightening session led by the esteemed Hon. Prof. Dr. Vishnu Patil. Dr. Patil's presentation delved deep into the realm of practicalities, offering a comprehensive exploration of the challenges and opportunities entailed in the implementation of the New Education Policy (NEP).

With an astute and discerning approach, Dr. Patil navigated through the intricacies of curriculum redesign, a pivotal aspect of NEP's execution. He methodically dissected the intricacies of reimagining educational content, shedding light on the need for curricula that align with the policy's multidisciplinary and flexible framework.

Dr. Patil also turned his attention to the critical matter of teacher training. He elucidated how educators, the frontline agents of change, require comprehensive preparation to embrace the NEP's transformative principles fully. His insights underscored the imperative of investing in the professional development of teachers to equip them with the tools and knowledge needed to usher in the new era of education.

Furthermore, Dr. Patil passionately advocated for collaborative efforts between educational institutions and policymakers. He highlighted the importance of fostering a cohesive ecosystem where academia and governance work hand in hand to bridge the gap between policy formulation and on-ground execution. His session ignited dynamic discussions, wherein participants explored strategies to ensure that the lofty ideals of the NEP find practical realization.

Dr. Patil's insightful session on the second day of the conference not only identified the hurdles but also illuminated the pathways toward successful NEP implementation. It served as a catalyst for attendees to engage in productive dialogues and collective brainstorming, fostering a sense of shared responsibility in the mission to transform education in the region.

Session 3:

The final session of the conference was conducted by Hon. Prin. Dr. V. B. Gaikwad. Dr. Gaikwad's presentation revolved around the NEP's impact on higher education institutions and its implications for administrative practices. He delved into the importance of fostering research and innovation within the educational ecosystem and highlighted the need for robust evaluation mechanisms to measure the policy's effectiveness.

Day 2:

Dr. Kurup's presentation went beyond the theoretical and delved deep into the realm of practicalities, providing a comprehensive exploration of the challenges and opportunities inherent in the implementation of the New Education Policy (NEP).

Dr. Kurup's approach was marked by astuteness and discernment. He skillfully navigated through the intricacies of curriculum redesign, which stands as a pivotal aspect of NEP's execution. His methodical dissection of the complexities involved in reimagining educational content shed much-needed light on the imperative of curricula that align with the policy's multidisciplinary and flexible framework.

His presentation effectively underscored the practical dimensions of implementing the NEP, acknowledging that the transformation of education requires not just policy vision but also a meticulous consideration of the steps needed to translate that vision into action. By doing so, Dr. Kurup provided valuable insights that resonated with the audience, fostering a deeper understanding of the challenges and opportunities inherent in reshaping the educational landscape.

In essence, Dr. Kurup's contribution to Session I illuminated the path forward, emphasizing the need for a pragmatic and well-thought-out approach to NEP implementation. His presentation acted as a guiding beacon, helping conference participants navigate the intricate journey of educational reform in alignment with the NEP's ambitious goals.

Session 2:

Session 2 of the conference featured the esteemed Hon. Dr. Pramod Pabrekar, Senior Consultant at Rashtriya Uchchatar Shiksha Abhiyan (RUSA) in Maharashtra. Dr. Pabrekar's participation added a valuable dimension to the conference proceedings, bringing his wealth of experience and expertise to the fore.

While specific details about Dr. Pabrekar's presentation are not provided, given his senior role and association with RUSA, it's likely that his session would have delved into critical aspects related to higher education, policy implementation, or other pertinent topics relevant to the overarching theme of the conference.
