Activity- 2020-2021

Voting Awareness (Date-25/01/2021)

(Online Platform- through Zoom meeting)

The COVID-19 pandemic has disrupted the world in unimaginable ways. In such a situation, it was impossible for students to come to the college. As a result, online lectures were initiated by the college through Zoom meetings. Dr. Thange V.C., the head of IQAC, suggested that necessary activities can be conducted through these online meetings.

It was decided to organize the National Voter's Day on January 25th using the online platform, facilitated by the Electron Electricity Club. Prof. Nagre shared a Zoom Meeting link on the students' WhatsApp group to enable their participation in the program. The initiative received a good response from the students, with more than 40 students joining the meeting. The importance of voting was effectively conveyed to the students, and many of them expressed their thoughts and feelings.

The program was presided over by Dr. Thange, the head of IQAC, who guided the students and advised them not to fear the pandemic situation but to stay with their families and take care of themselves and their loved ones. He assured them that online classes would continue until they can physically attend college, and important programs would be conducted through online platforms. Dr. Thange expressed hope that everyone would overcome this situation soon and emphasized the importance of avoiding crowded places, while recommending consulting a doctor whenever necessary.

Prof. Nagare, Prof. Wagh, and Prof. Dr. Vilas Awari played instrumental roles in organizing this program. Prof. Devare expressed gratitude to the attendees.
